CDW•G's Appendix B – Supplier Procurement and Subcontracting Plan is presented on the following page.

Describe in detail information on all mentor-protégé programs and participation that your firm is involved with.

Commitment to Diversity

At the heart of every diverse business program is the drive to foster diverse communities' inclusivity and drive local economic growth. It's a government's commitment to strengthen civic engagement and level the playing field. CDW•G supports this effort, too. We launched our Supplier Diversity program in 2007 and have continued to increase our positive impact on diverse businesses since the program's inception.

In 2019, CDW•G became a member of the Billion Dollar Roundtable (BDR), joining an exclusive group of U.S.-based companies that have procured more than $1 billion annually from minority- and women-owned businesses on a first-tier basis. CDW•G will continue to partner with local SWaM contractors that we can onboard as part of the VITA Network Products and Services contract.

CDW•G not being a diverse prime has the privilege, opportunity, and responsibility to partner with diverse suppliers and bring them with us to every opportunity. Just like our customers, their procurement practices, and technology in general, our Supplier Diversity program is adaptive in order to accommodate the unique and changing needs of our customers. To bolster our support of VITA's contracting goals, CDW•G endeavors to work with our supplier diversity team and local partners to explore ways to grow our SWaM representation in the Commonwealth and while supporting VITA's diverse supplier goals.

Economic Impact of our Supplier Diversity Program in Virginia

CDW•G's supplier diversity program spreads economic development to communities through the engagement of small, diverse suppliers. The impact of this program expands beyond the immediate suppliers. CDW•G's diverse suppliers and the employees they hire to engage other suppliers in their supply chain and their communities. This engagement creates a multiplier effect that ripples through the economy. Of the $558.4M of 2020 purchases CDW•G procured from Virginia-based small and diverse businesses, this resulted in $1B in total local economic production in the Commonwealth.

CDW•G Diversity Mentoring and Protégé Relationships

Another important aspect of the CDW•G Supplier Diversity program is our support and participation in various organizations and events focused on developing relationships and business opportunities within diverse communities.

CDW•G is a National Corporate Member of the National Minority Supplier Development Council, Inc. and The Women's Business Enterprise National Council. CDW•G supports other organizations, as well, which include the National Veteran-Owned Business Association and National Gay & Lesbian Chamber of Commerce.

Not only does CDW•G contribute financially to these organizations, but we also engage in advisory councils, attend and host events, and provide resources to support the organizations' focus on continued growth and success.

Our diversity and inclusion programs are detailed at <https://www.cdw.com/content/cdw/en/about/overview/diversity-and-inclusion/supplier-diversity.html>

Though not a woman-owned company, it is essential to note that since January 1, 2019, CDW has been led by a woman executive – CEO Christine Leahy. Only 6.6 percent of 2019 FORTUNE 500 companies have a female CEO. Ms. Leahy has been with CDW for 17 years, previously served as the company's chief revenue officer, and was the company's first general counsel.
